Presidential Year.
Methodists Are Shocked.
Dod Cook Again.
Men Are Dull—very.

The business man's "bad Presidential year" will not be a bad year, unless merchants and people combine to make it so.

A good year depends on good buying. Nothing in the election of a President prevents people buying the usual supplies, from ice cream sodas to fur coats, from factory sites to bungalows.

This Presidential year ought to be our most prosperous year. The election reminds the people that this country is managed by its inhabitants, for the benefit of the inhabitants when they take the trouble to vote thoughtfully.

Europe is nursing malevolent notions mistrusting each other and hating each other's products. Here we have one hundred and ten millions of people living at peace in forty-eight different States all trading freely back and forth from ocean to ocean.

While other nations lack food and raw materials our problem is to get rid of our surplus on a profitable basis.

We haven't even begun to scratch the wealth of this country. Wages are higher than they ever were; prosperity is greater than it ever was; and there is more money to be spent than there ever was.

Nineteen hundred and twenty-four, the Presidential year, ought to be the maximum year of American prosperity for all time.

It will be if the pessimists will allow it.

The King of Denmark, who was told a while ago that Dr. Cook had discovered the North Pole, has now been told that Dr. Cook is sentenced to fourteen years in jail for swindling in connection with oil wells.

Psychologists, if they examined Dr. Cook, would probably find that he has the brain and the imagination of a young school boy.

Years ago he exhibited himself in a dime museum in New York, with Esquimau dogs, sleds and heavy furs, and gradually imagined himself a real explorer. Finally, he imagined that he had discovered the North Pole, perhaps he almost believed it. There is no penalty for imaging that.

But when he imagined that he had discovered valuable oil wells and sold stock—that was a different offence.

The Methodist Episcopal Board of Public Morals has things to say about the stage in New York. Young ladies, it seems, many at a time, "troop down to the footlights naked from the waist up, and practically naked from the waist down—don't call it nude, just plain naked," so say the board.

Much seems to depend on what people are doing, and why, and where. In ancient Greece young girls ran in the races entirely naked without hurting anybody's morals. Their intentions were good. That makes all the difference.

Many things on the stage are both immoral and stupid, intentionally immoral, unintentionally stupid, but nevertheless very stupid. Women, as now presented to the public, are about as interesting as so many "sides" of dressed beef hung up in a butcher shop. Managers ought to know that.

A few years ago, even Henry Ford wouldn't have thought this possible. He will talk, through the air, from his WWJ station at Dearborn, using his 360 metre wave, across a thousand miles of this continent, three thousand miles of the Atlantic Ocean, to men and women "listening in" in England.

That miracle would have astounded those living when the Old Testament was written.

Let's hope that in a few thousand years, with every human being able to talk at will with any other on earth, men will decide to stop murdering each other, and follow Joseph Pulitzer's advice, "Don't fight; advertise."

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bell, who came here recently from North Dakota have purchased the comfortable little home formerly owned by Mr. Ansbaugh, on the corner of Twelfth street and Oregon avenue. We are glad to welcome the Bells as new citizens of St. Cloud, and are sure that they will make a valued addition to our population.

NEW TOURIST CLUB HOUSE FORMALLY OPENED LAST MONDAY WHEN BUSINESS HOUSES CLOSED FOR THE BIG OCCASION

Monday marked another gala day in the history of St. Cloud.

The whole city turned out in the afternoon for the fantastic parade headed by the Old Maid Band (St. Cloud band in costume), and followed a long line of paraders to the city park, where the formal opening of the new tourist club house occurred.

For several months diligent workers on the Chamber of Commerce committee, assisted by the citizens in general, have been busy erecting a spacious club house for use of the tourists in the city park, and the building having reached such a state of completion on Monday the formal opening was held with appropriate exercises.

The parade formed on Pennsylvania avenue and on Eleventh street, the two divisions joining at Eleventh St. and Pennsylvania avenue, and included beside the old maid band many of the local patriotic and civic organizations, chief among which were the members of the G. A. R. Post, which, after forming at their hall at Massachusetts avenue and Eleventh st., marched to Pennsylvania, where they joined the rest of the parade.

The band played a number of selections en route and at the park, and the comedians and clowns in this aggregation gave merriment to the assemblage.

Ex-Mayor S. W. Parker, who has been in charge of the committees' activities for the Chamber of Commerce in this work, introduced Mayor L. M. Parker, who in his usual pleasing manner extended a hearty welcome to the tourists in our midst on behalf of the city and the Chamber of Commerce, and told what the committees had been trying to accomplish for the entertainment of the visitor within our midst. He related how glad he was that he had found such a pleasant place to make his home and expressed the opinion that others by the thousands that would come in the future would find St. Cloud as satisfactory as he himself had done.

Following Mr. Parker, A. W. Hall, president of the St. Cloud Tourist Club made an excellent talk on how grateful he was for the reception given the tourist arriving in St. Cloud, and the slogan "the Friendly City" was one that fitted St. Cloud perfectly. He said that folks were made to feel that they were at home, everybody spoke and greeted you cordially and that there was a very good reason why so many people also called St. Cloud "The Wonder City".

Rev. W. Frank Kenney, one of the pioneers of the city, then related all the trials and tribulations of the early citizens and pioneers in trying to make a real city, and showed that after all the drawbacks encountered the city was going ahead rapidly every day.

Rev. Wm. Landles, pastor of the Methodist Church and vice president of the Chamber of Commerce told of the tourist club committee's work in erecting the club house and providing a playground for the guests in the city park, relating how with a start with a blank sheet of paper the club house and playground was almost complete through the generosity of citizens and boosters, but stated that [illegible] carry out the plans of the committee. President Parker read the list of donations made to date, and asked for additions to the funds, with the result shown in the list given below.

While the additions to the funds were being made the band played: "Yes, We Have No Bananas," but when the total of contributions was made it was found that the large gathering was willing to see that the "band had some bananas" and the plans of the committee were carried out in full.

The list of contributions to date, since Monday, is as follows:

Unusual Feature in Parade.

In the parade last Monday afternoon, preceding the opening of the club house included Mrs. J. M. Raymond, color bearer of the National Drum Corps, carrying continental and present-day colors. This particular feature was unknown to many who had never had the privilege of witnessing parades with the color bearers of the national organization in line.

In the fife and drum corps were Comrades J. M. Raymond, G. M. Clark, Severn, McPherson and Ferguson.

PAINTERS NOTICE

Next Monday the committee on the tourist club building work request every person who can use a painting the finishing touches to the new brush to come to the city park ready to give some time to the job of painting the tourist club building. All materials [illegible] will be furnished by the committee, and it is hoped that enough persons will be on hand to finish the job on short notice.

ROGERS, AS ICHABOD CRANE, IN "HEADLESS HORSEMAN" LAUGHS AT SOLEMN EPITAPHS

Has Fun Between Scenes in Making up Epitaphs in the Sleepy Hollow graveyard Where the Headless Horseman Was Buried.

Will Rogers, who plays the role of Ichabod Crane, the Yankee schoolmaster in "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow" which will appear at the Palm theatre for one day, Dec. 14, under the title of "The Headless Horseman," became quite fond of reading epitaphs during the filming of this production. Some of the scenes, it is understood, were laid in the graveyard in which the Headless Horseman was buried and also where a number of the leading figures of Washington Irving's day were laid to rest.

Between scenes, Mr. Rogers could be seen ambling through the old graveyard reading the various epitaphs. Here was one which Will Rogers is fond of repeating:

"Here lies the body of John Mound;
Lost at sea and never found."

Another one which the star of "The Headless Horseman" enjoys repeating is:

Afflictions sore I sometime bore
Physicians were in vain,
Till death did seize
And God did please
To ease me of my pain."

One day while Will Rogers was busily engaged in perusing one of these headstones, Mr. Carl Stearns Clancy, the producer asked him what he was thinking about. To which question Mr. Rogers replied in his inimitable drawl:

"I was just a-thinkin'," said he, "that I might be buried here, and if any of Ichabod Crane's descendants ever got sore on me for playing this role and they ever found where I was about the proper epitaph to place over my head would be:

'Here lies Will Rogers, who died in pain;

CARLOAD OF MACHINERY FOR CITY PLANT ARRIVES.

Yesterday the last carload fo machinery for the new power unit being installed at the city power plant arrived and work will go forward at a rapid pace until the new unit is ready for service, January 1 being the date that the completion is anticipated.

The big engines arrived some time ago, but due to some delay at the electrical engineering works in finishing that part of the unit, the engines could not be installed.

Fairbanks-Morse Co. said the [illegible] the new unit necessary to meet the growing demand for lights and power with added power for water service, and had contemplated having the machinery in operation in November. At the last minute it was discovered that the electrical part of the work could not be completed until a survey of the present equipment, which is to work in unison with the new, must be made, details of the present equipment not being in the hands of the electric company. Local engineers made the necessary drawings of the present switchboard and forwarded them to the company with the result that the remainder of the outfit is here and ready to install.

REAL ESTATE LAW TO BE STRICT IN FUTURE.

Information has been received that efforts are to be made to strictly enforce the new Florida real estate law, which refers to qualifications and character of real estate agents and prohibits such some real estate dealers doing business in the state.

The new law requires the applicant for a state license to give two character references and also makes it compulsory for anyone dealing in or trying to sell real property to have a permanent place of business where a real estate office is conducted.

EFFORT TO FORM Y. M. C. A. IN ST. CLOUD NEXT TUESDAY.

Every young man in St. Cloud is requested t ocattend a meeting to be held at the Methodist church next Tuesday evening, when an effort to organize a Young Men's Christian Association will be made. The meeting will be called at 7:00 o'clock and the gathering is to be a union effort of all churches and young men in the city.

LIST YOUR ROOMS AND HOUSES AT ONCE.

Reports are coming to the Tribune office that the demand for apartments, rooms and cottages for the winter season, are heavier than at any time in the history of the city, and despite the fact that several hundred new houses are available, the demand is fast exhausting in the lists on hand with real estate concerns.

Every person having a room, apartment or cottage to rent is urged to list them with the real estate people in the city so that the thousands who are asking for place for the winter may be accommodated.

RED CROSS ANNUAL MEETING MONDAY SELECTS COMMITTEE

The annual meeting of the St. Cloud Chapter, American Red Cross was held at the Chamber of Commerce rooms on Monday evening, and the following officers elected for the coming year:

L. M. Parker, Chairman.
M. Puckett Foster, vice-chairman.
Sam Brammar, treasurer.
V. Clyde Edwards, secretary.

Reports of the nurse and officers were heard, and due to the fact that there were several other meetings in progress in the city that require the attendance of the members, nothing but routine business was taken up at the meeting Monday.

Miss Likes, local Red Cross nurse, reported her attendance on the conference of nurses and social workers in Jacksonville last week, and the annual report of the treasurer was filed. The report of the treasurer is as follows:

BUY CHRISTMAS GOODS EARLY---HELP MERCHANTS

It's only 19 days until Christmas. This season of the year finds the St. Cloud merchants with their shelves well filled with goods that are needed to meet the demands of the people of Osceola county, and already the wise buyers are calling to select their proposed presents for the greatest holiday season of the year.

Those who buy early always have larger varieties of goods to select from, for every wise merchant buys about what he thinks his customers will need for the Christmas season, it having long ago been found out that it does not pay to carry over holiday goods. If it was not expensive to keep goods on hand that were not in demand it would be unwise to overstock because new designs of many things are made each year, and the merchant who tries to sell last year's gifts for this year presents finds that some more careful buyer has a line of such decidedly new things that people flock to the store with the new goods.

Buy early, and watch the Tribune columns for the store news that is contained in the various advertisements each week from now until Christmas.

And don't forget that a box of Florida oranges and grapefruit make an ideal gift to send the folks back home where it is now cold and will cheer them more than any other present you might send.

BIG TIME IN STORE FOR ODD FELLOWS AND REBEKAHS.

A big time is in store for the members of the Odd Fellow and Rebekah lodges on Friday evening of this week, when at eight o'clock the local lodges will give an entertainment for all members, visiting members, their wives and husbands. All Odd Fellows are requested to bring their wives and all Rebekahs are requested to bring their husbands.

A luncheon will be served, the contents of which bill of fare is not made public, because the committee has a surprise in store. A good program of music will be provided and other things to make the evening pleasant. Mark this date off on your calendar and be present.

COUNTY SCHOOL BOARD SETS DATES FOR HOLIDAY SEASON IN OSCEOLA COUNTY.

At the regular monthly meeting of the county school board held last Tuesday at the court house, it was decided that all public schools in the county would close on December 21st until January 7th for the holiday season. This gives the teachers and students two weeks for the season.

The matter of selecting a depository for the county school funds for the coming year was taken up, and the Bank of St. Cloud was again selected as the institution to handle these funds.

Reports that measles had been discovered among families in Kissimmee caused the school board to ask all principals and teachers of county schools to take precautions to prevent the spread of the disease at this season. While it is mostly a children's malady and not serious in Florida, it causes some annoyances for a few days when it occurs.

The vote of the election held in districts 4, 5 and 6 was canvassed on the question of consolidating into one district for the purpose of [illegible] bonds. The majority was decidedly in favor of the consolidation, and due to the fact that the statutes provide no district can issue bonds until formed more than thirty days the matter of calling another election to decide the bond question was deferred until the January meeting.

Other routine matters were considered by the board and their work was finished at noon when they adjourned until January 7th, 1924.

AMERICAN LEGION

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Dec. 5.—Declaring that disabled [illegible] child was are heroes, not objects of charity", Joe C. Thomas, commander of an American Legion post in Muskogee said that the legion never has, and never will ask for charity.

Thomas' statement came in answer to words of certain Muskogee clubmen who had referred to a proposed legion entertainment for benefit of disabled soldiers as a "worthy and charitable cause". Funds from the benefit performance were to provide comforts for the disabled men at the Soldiers' Memorial hospital in Muskogee.

"The state owes, the city owes—these boys a debt which can never be paid in money, regardless of the amount offered them", declared Thomas. "The wounded and disabled boys in the institution are not charity patients—they are heroes, many who would rather die than be considered as charges of charity."

"The American Legion acts as an agency through which the citizens may work to show their appreciation of the boys' heroism" he added.

OWATONNA, Minn., Dec. 5.—Headed by a drum corps from a local fraternal organization, hundreds of Rice County, Minn., Legionnaires paraded in Owatonna in tribute to Major Ezra C. Clemans, newly elected national chaplain of the American Legion. For thirty-seven years Major Clemans has served with the military of the State and Nation.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Dec. 5.—As a proof of the government's interest in the opening a new Legion home in South Bend, Ind., President Calvin Coolidge wired his congratulations to the post.

ALBANY, N. Y., Dec. 5.—Legislation providing for immediate distribution of $25,000,000 to world war veterans in New York will be introduced at the opening week of the state legislature, according to Assemblyman David E. Jeffrey, chairman of the Executive Mess Conference of the New York legislature.

Under the bonus referendum which overwhelmingly passed, the legislature will immediately provide a necessary bond issue and set up machinery for distribution of the awards, declared Assemblyman Jeffrey.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Dec. 5—Delay in announcement of state winners in the American Legion's national essay contest has been occasioned by the great number of essays submitted in competition, according to Garland W. Powell, director of the National Americanism Commission of the Legion. In some cities, according to reports received by the legion official, the number of essays has run into the thousands and the appointed judges have been forced to use additional time to consider the final merits of the work of the school children.

In Brooklyn, N. Y., more than 2000 essays were sent in for judgment. Winners in about twenty-five states have been announced thus far, and Mr. Powell expects reports to be completed within one week's time.

The essay of Francis King Paget, of Canton, China, winner of the competition in that country has been received at Legion headquarters and will go into the final judgment. Two of the three winners from Hawaii have been received. First prize in the 1922 contest went to Ah Sing Chun, a Hawaiian youth of Chinese extraction.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 5.—Posts of the American Legion will no longer be victimized by fakers who claim membership in the organization in order to obtain funds, Lemuel Bolles, national adjutant of the organization, has declared. An effort by Legion national headquarters to clear the country of such impostors will soon be undertaken.

The problem of the transient ex-service men has long been a serious one to legion posts. Continual demands are made for assistance. Many of the claims on which demands are made have been found fraudulent. Certain recipients of funds for relief are known to have travelled all over the country at the expense of the legion, while others have dissipated the money in idleness.

A recent case has been reported to national headquarters from a Kentucky post. There, a man, and a woman represented to be his wife, applied to the post adjutant for aid. The adjutant took them into his own home, and cashed several checks on a Mobile, Ala., bank, where the man claimed legion membership. Before these checks were returned to the adjutant marked, "no funds", the [illegible] a supply of legion membership cards and the adjutant's best trousers.

The national organization seeks elimination of such instances. Telegraphic word is sent to all departments when such operations are reported. At the San Francisco convention of the legion a resolution was passed that is expected to end the practice. According to Adjutant Bolles' explanation of this resolution, before any funds are paid to applicants, telegraphic authority from the post in which membership is claimed must be requested, or a thorough investigation made before funds are presented to the applicant.

The Daughters of Veterans wish to thank all those who so kindly gave us their unlimited assistance to make the play "Mr. and Mrs. Polly Tickle" a success.

We hope to have about $80.00 left when our debts are all paid.

At the regular session we had five visitors whom we are always glad to see and hope they come often.

After election of officers we expect to get settled down to business in which our visitors can take part.

Next meeting, Dec. 18, 1923.

Presbyterian Church.

This is the holiday season. It is the time of year when we should all be happy and joyous, a time when we should be thankful to God for the many blessings which He has bestowed upon us. We should give God something in return for His goodness unto us the best way we can show our appreciation of the many good things which God has given us is by serving Him, and we can serve Him in no better place than the Church. Some one has spoken of the Church thus,

"Unshaken as eternal hills
Immovable she stands
A mountain that shall fill the earth
A house not made by hands."

So friends, let's go to church, at least during the holiday season and see the many good things we receive. There is always a welcome at the church for you.

The time of our Sabbath School has been changed from 9:30 A. M. to 9:40 so you have ten more minutes in which to get there. Let's all be out to Sabbath school next Sunday for a change.

Preaching service begins as usual at 10:45 A. M. Those of you that are not attending the preaching service of the church are surely missing a treat. The evening preaching services are well attended. Remember, they begin at 6:30 P. M.

Prayer meeting every Wednesday evening at 7:00. You are all welcome to the prayer meeting.

Friday evening at 7:30 there is choir practice at the church. All those that are inclined to singing, are welcome to meet with us at this time.

Our Christian Endeavor prayer meeting begins at 7:30 P. M. We are certainly having good meetings now and enthusiasm is growing with every meeting. We only wish that more of the church folks would stay over from preaching and enjoy a real live C. E. meeting. Our subject next Sunday evening is "What Makes a Successful Worker". The scripture lesson is found in Proverbs 6:6-11. The leaders are Mrs. Robt. Fry and Francis Conn. Every one is welcome to every meeting.

STOP COUGHING

Coughs cause feverish conditions, throat and lung strain and lead to pneumonia and serious sickness. The sooner you quit coughing the quicker you will feel better and have a better night's rest. Leonardi's Cough Syrup (Creosoted) eases and soothes inflamed, raw throats, raises the phlegm without rackling or straining, protects the lungs, and removes the cause of the trouble. Be warned by the first cough. Get a bottle of Leonardi's Cough Syrup (Creosoted) from your druggist. Fine for coughs, colds, grippe, croup, whooping cough and bronchitis. Pleasant, safe and sure.

THE HIGH SCHOOL LIBRARY

The people of Saint Cloud have something to be very proud of in that they have a library at their public school equal to any in the state of its size. The books have been very carefully selected and are of the best that can be obtained.

At the opening of the school year the library contained 550 volumes. Since the opening of school there has been added 64 new volumes of the very best material that could be found. There are 16 volumes of Popular Reference Books, treating the most recent scientific discoveries and inventions. 20 volumes of Mark Twain's best works, 12 volumes of Cillery's works and 11 volumes of the New Collier's Encyclopedia. The Encyclopedia is known as the Service Edition and will be kept up to date for ten years. Something between April 1st and May 1st the school will receive the service sheets which will be inserted in the loose leaf binder. This loose leaf binder is Vol. 11 and at the expiration of ten years will be complete, that is it will contain all the new discoveries, inventions and comments on nation-wide subjects and men of fame.

VETERANS ASSOCIATION

The regular meeting of the Veterans Association was held on Saturday, Dec. 1st, with the President, Mr. Kenney in the chair. Opening Song, America. Prayer by the Chaplain, Mr. Westcott. Minutes of the previous session read by the Secretary and approved. The social hour was in charge of the G. A. R. with Mr. De Graw as leader. The St. Cloud Yell was given. Smith and Mrs. Freer, Comrades, we are growing old, Silver treads among the gold. Music by the Drum Corps, two numbers.

Closed with singing, The Star Spangled Banner.

FRANCES R. RILEY, Secretary.

A DOUBLE DELIGHT.

On Thanksgiving Day, Comrade Fred Reitz and wife entertained W. Frank Kenney and wife and Mrs. Houston, sister of Mrs. Kenney, at which time (K. says) the splendid, great big dinner enabled the guests to lay in a supply of food that (K. says, was commensurate with his future needs for several days.

Then, on the third of December, the hospitable door of the Reitz home was again opened to friends of the family, the occasion being in honor of Comrade Reitz's natal day.

Social chat; an excellent luncheon; then, after the big, illuminated birthday cake had its candles extinguished, it was distributed among the assembled friends. Kenney speechified a few minutes; and Comrade Fred Reitz responded in a manner that proved his heart has not grown old, but is full of the spirit of comradery, despite the many years between the '60ies and today.

City Election will be uninteresting—

On December 22 there will be held a city election to fill the unexpired term of A. Diefendorf, deceased, as city councilman and assessor, and since there was only one person whose petition was filed on time the election will be a very quiet affair.

The charter provides that persons desiring to have their names placed on the city ballots must file a petition twenty days before the election. G. P. Arrowsmith, who formerly was city treasurer, was the only one whose petition was filed last Saturday, the last day, and Mr. Arrowsmith will thus become the assessor until April 1 of next year to fill Mr. Diefendorf's place.

TAMPA TRIBUNE SAYS THE MELBOURNE ROAD PASSABLE

Judge H. Blaine Peacock, who returned to Tampa Monday afternoon from an automobile trip to Miami, states that the Kissimmee cut-off, the automobile route to Miami from the west coast by way by Kissimmee to Melbourne, is in fairly good and thoroughly passable condition. As compared with the routes from Tampa to Miami by way of either Daytona or New Smyrna, the Kissimmee cut-off saves a distance of 150 miles. Automobiles are carried on a train of flat cars, operated by a lumber concern for a distance of eight miles across the south end of St. John's River, placing them on a good highway on the opposite side which leads directly to Melbourne.

Judge Peacock states that any section of road between Tampa and Miami on the Kissimmee cut-off route will permit a speed of not under twenty miles per hour. He says that all detours, where roads are under construction are in very good condition and that there is in no place danger of cars being stuck.

From the city hall in Tampa to the city hall in Miami by way of the Kissimmee cut-off registered exactly 330 miles by his speedometer, Judge Peacock states. He made the trip to Miami on business and pleasure combined, having left Tampa last Thursday at noon, arriving in Miami at 4 o'clock the following morning after continuous driving. In order that information regarding the Kissimmee cut-off route might be available for motorists generally, Judge Peacock will make a detailed report of his trip to the Tampa Motor Club, of which he is a member.—Tampa Tribune.

We are printing an article taken from the Tampa Tribune referring to a "visit" of Geo. W. Bean state Republican committeeman for Florida, made to this state recently. This reads rather funny, as the gentleman claims Washington, D. C. as his home, yet confesses that he is a Florida state committeeman. Probably that is one reason why the Republicans of the state cannot muster more support. They evidently don't think there are any good Republicans actually living here to hold even committee appointments. This is a question for the Republicans to consider, as the Democrats are pretty well pleased to let the other party have non-resident committeemen right on.

NARCOOSSEE CORRESPONDENT CALLS EDITOR'S HAND.

Editor St. Cloud Tribune,
St. Cloud, Fla.
My Dear Sir:

From reading the editorial in your paper of last week, entitled "A Long Way to Tipperary", one would draw a wrong conclusion and form an erroneous idea as to the action taken by the Narcoossee Board of Trade regarding the extension of the hard road from this place to the Orange county line; also the editorial was somewhat misleading as to the good resulting to St. Cloud from the building of this road.

Your editorial stated that Kissimmee would kill the project as it would divert travel through that city to the east coast and make the Narcoossee road the principal route. As regards the first statement, permit me to call your attention to the fact that Kissimmee will have nothing to say as to this road, for the reason that the plan is to bond this commissioner's district only to pay the cost of construction, and certainly the people of Kissimmee are too big, too progressive, too liberal in their views to oppose the building of a hard road in any part of the county, especially where it does not separate them from a cent to pay the cost. Of course a certain number of people who now travel through Kissimmee en route to or from the east coast will pass over the Narcoossee route instead, but that will not materially affect that city.

As to your statement that it will eliminate St. Cloud as a station on the cross-country highway, I can not agree as it is but two miles from Ashton to the "Wonder City", and a sign placed in the triangle at Ashton telling autoists it was "two miles to St. Cloud" and "fifty miles to Melbourne", would induce by far the majority of travelers to visit your city. And if it should be the means of diverting some cars, would not that loss be offset ten times over by St. Cloud being placed on a direct line of a main highway leading north and south. Thousands of cars annually would pass through St. Cloud that now go over the Dixie Highway, which fact would bring the "Wonder City" into greater prominence than it has ever before enjoyed. These are indisputable facts, and a few minutes' thought will convince the greatest skeptic they are facts. With this road completed St. Cloud will grow and prosper as it has never grown and prospered before, and it would demonstrate a lack of foresight on the people of your city if they do not get behind the movement and push it to a successful conclusion.

Of course the road will be of wonderful advantage to Narcoossee, and it should be, for this is one of the favored spots of nature in all things that make life worth the living, and the best is none too good for it.

Respectfully,
S. J. TRIPLETT.
Narcoossee, Fla., Dec. 5, 1923.

HELP THE OLD FOLKS

A Helping Hand Extended to Many Old People in St. Cloud.

The infirmities of age are many.
Most old people have a bad back.
The kidneys are often weak.
Or worn out with years of work.
Backache means days of misery.
Urinary troubles, nights of unrest.
Doan's Kidney Pills have helped to make life easier for many.
They are doing so for old and young.

St. Cloud people are learning this. Read the following local endorsement.

Mrs. L. Zeller, Massachusetts Ave., says: "I was ailing with lame back and kidney complaint. There was a heavy, bearing-down pain in my back and it felt like a weight tied to me. I felt tired and languid and was hardly able to get about. My kidneys acted irregularly. I used Doan's Pills and they cured me of the attack."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Mrs. Zeller had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Save These Silly American Heiresses

The revolting confession of that unspeakable cad, Count Boni de Castellane, who in a published article tells under his own name how he plotted to marry Anna Gould and her millions, should prove not only a warning to self-respecting American girls—it should provide a guide post for American legislators who have in their power the ability to put an end once and for all time to the deluding of the countrywomen and the exploitation of American fortunes.

There are few people who know the history of the Gould accumulations, and who are familiar with the escapades that have marked the lives of some of the earlier generations who have not regarded the Gould family with a certain measure of regret. They recall how Jay Gould, founder of the fortune, driven to cover by an angry mob, barely escaped the rope and the lamppost by barricading himself in the old Grand Opera House on Eighth Avenue, New York. It has remained, however, for the blood of Europe allied with the Goulds—the husband of the diminutive Anna to descend to the depths of degradation and for a few paltry dollars to write for the public prints the story of his shame and of his wife's unfortunate stupidity and vanity.

Count Boni, whose father frequented the cheap dram shops and tawdry gaming houses of Paris in the hope of picking up a free drink or an easy franc or two while his son plotted the control of the great American fortune, admits his profligacy, the while sneering with a cheap snobbishness at American barbaric taste. He writes himself the most distasteful of American fortune hunters, but he is by no means unique. The others are simply shrewd enough to keep their inner feelings to themselves. Surely the time has arrived to put an end to the operations of these tawdry profligates.

Let Congress and every state pass a law escheating the estates of American girls who sacrifice themselves on the altar of a foreign "nobility"—God save the word! There is a general impression that the law of inheritance is one of inalienable right. This is not the fact. The law of inheritance is based on statutory enactment. Once let Congress or a state legislature pass a law escheating the estates of American girls who wed the scions of an alien nobility, and we will have an end to these disgraceful intrigues. We have laws for the preservation of everything from hogs to angle worms. We have statutes aimed at safeguarding the weak and incompetent against themselves. For Heaven's sake let us have a law that will protect American heiresses from their own folly. This done, the trash of Europe will not long be knocking at the door.

Show me the man with a soul so dead who never to himself hath said the home town paper is a pretty good friend after all.

Carlyle wrote that labor, while on earth has its summit in heaven. If he were writing today he would change labor for the cost of living.

If any of the readers of this newspaper [illegible] what to do with their time let them count the [illegible] in the news columns and see the [illegible] of work they [illegible] for [illegible] or two—all other labor and material eliminated.

Hon. J. L. Overstreet, Elected Master Kissimmee Masons.

At the regular meeting of Orange Blossom Lodge No. 80, F. & A. M., held in Kissimmee last Monday, the officers for the coming year were selected and Hon. J. L. Overstreet, present county clerk, was elected as master of the lodge. Geo. T. Sigler was named senior warden, J. Nathan Bryan, junior warden; M. M. Miller, treasurer; W. L. Bullock, secretary. Mr. Overstreet will announce his appointments to fill the other stations at a forthcoming meeting of the lodge.

Mr. Overstreet has been one of the hardest workers in fraternal and other organizations in Osceola county for the past several years. He had served in all offices leading up to the master's station in Masonry and his election became unanimous at the meeting Monday. He had served two terms as presiding officer in the Knights of Pythias and Odd Fellows of Kissimmee, and was one term district deputy grand master of Odd Fellows for the Twelfth district of Florida.

John L. Overstreet is so well known in this section of the state that he needs no introduction to our readers, as he has served most efficiently as county clerk for eleven years, and when he finishes this his third term will round an even dozen years as clerk. In that time he has handled the county business in such a satisfactory manner that it is very probable that when he announces to succeed himself, as his friends are urging him to do, there will be no opposition again. He was elected the last term with no opposition, and the wide experience has fitted him even better for another term.

Mr. Overstreet was for more than ten years superintendent of the Methodist Sunday school at Kissimmee, has served on the official board of the church, and at all times has been found ready to help any good cause that arises for the development of our county.

Bob Taylor's "Dream of Heaven"

"What Heaven is like, I do not know, but I long have dreamed of its purple hills and fields of light blossoming with immortal beauty; of its brooks of laughter and its rivers of song, and its palaces of eternal love. I long have dreamed that every bird with its life here may sing forever there in the Tree of Life, and every consecrated soul that suffers here may rest among its flowers and live and love forever. I long have dreamed of opal towers and burnished golden domes, but what care I for gates of pearl, or streets of gold, if I can meet the loved ones who have blessed me here, and see the glorified faces of father and mother, and the boy brother who died among the bursting buds of hope, and take again to my arms my baby who fell asleep when her little tongue had learned to lisp, 'Our Father Who Art in Heaven.' What care I for crowns of stars or harps of gold, if I can love and laugh and sing with them forever in the smile of my Saviour and my God."

"THE THREE WISE MEN"

Punchettes

by Rev. M. A. Matthews D.D. LL.D.

THE CONSPIRACY

There was formed the greatest conspiracy against the resurrection of Jesus Christ the world has ever known. They bribed the people who were at the tomb and manufactured a ridiculous lie in order that they might create doubt concerning the resurrection of Jesus. The resurrection of Jesus Christ was a fact, and therefore the conspirators had to explain the fact away, or in some manner destroy belief in its supernaturalness. Therefore, they held a conference and outlined a program of deception which has been carried down through the ages, and the rationalistic, unregenerated forces of today are still propagating the lie, and are members of that conspiracy.

The original program involved bribery, the use of power and money. They rehearsed their story, memorized it and instructed the people how to repeat it. That same policy is being followed today.

The original program of bribery, conspiracy, lying and attack upon the tomb of Jesus Christ is being carried on today, not only against the tomb, but against the Church and her fundamental doctrines. The purpose, of course, is to deceive the very elect. The agencies of the Church are being used, educational institutions are being invaded, the power of money is being employed, and the great evangelical fundamental doctrines are being attacked by members of the most damnable conspiracy the world ever saw. The battle is being waged around the empty tomb.

There is no historical fact more perfectly established than the resurrection of Jesus Christ, and yet infamous, perjuring, rationalistic, unregenerate preachers and teachers are denying the supernatural, bodily resurrection of Jesus Christ. They are members of this infamous conspiracy.

Real Christians should awake to the fact, be aroused to the crime and expose the conspirators and their conspiracy.

RICHARD LLOYD JONES SAYS

Justice is the Goal of Civilization

[illegible] is justice. Liberty and equality are empty words unless they rest upon justice which at all times is the [illegible] principle for humanity. Separate liberty or equality from justice and neither can stand. The passion of all great prophets throughout all ages has been for justice.

It is the one-word definition of the Golden Rule. It was not only the basis of the teachings of Jesus but of all great religious seers and prophets. Each in his turn and time and in his own way said the same thing. Confucius put it: "What I do not wish men to do to me, I also wish not to do to them."

Justice is virile; it is never passive or indifferent. It is the truth in action. Justice may be violent; it is always violent to the one who offends it. We may prize success, covet wealth, seek honor, but none of these can satisfy unless they come through justice.

He is great who, for justice's sake, can forget friends, kin, self-interest—all—to fight for or to work for that which is right for another, a stranger perhaps, or even an enemy. We cannot secure justice for ourselves through denying justice to others. It is not in the order of things, for justice is consistent, impartial and always fair.

The nation that loves liberty most sincerely and that fights only for human justice is seldom found in the brutal entanglements of war and then only in a beleagured war made holy by the passion for justice. The nation that covets property and men, that seeks to enrich itself by devastating its neighbor, is found most often in the throes of war and then for the shameful and unsatisfying end of boldly defying justice. And as with nations so with men. Such nations come to no good end.

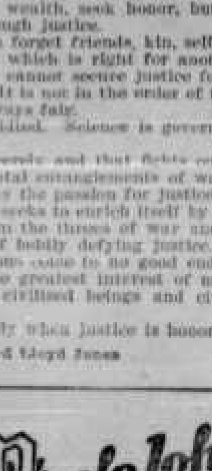

"Justice," said Daniel Webster, "is the greatest interest of man on earth. It is the ligament which holds civilized beings and civilized nations together."

Happiness and progress are secured only when justice is honored.

Poem by Uncle John

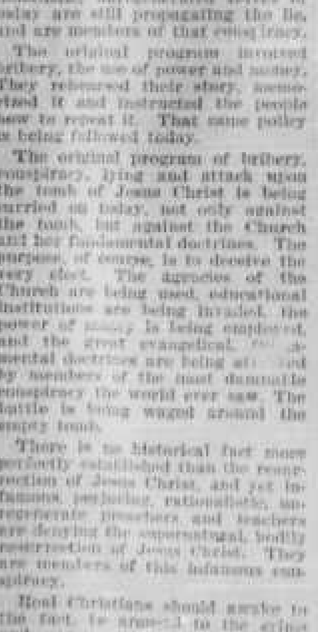

Since I've been wearin' glasses, I command a better view of myself an' my surroundin's than my naked eye could do. . . . They have broadened my perspectif in a gratifyin' way—till my neighbors pay attention to most anything I say.

A feller can't help smilin' when he puts his glasses on, an' views his feller-mortals with their imperfections gone. . . . They used to look so snoopy, with so much to criticize.—O, it's powerful misleadin' when yo got defective eyes!

When the age for wearin' glasses fetches hair of silver grey, we can love our neighbors better, as their failin's melt away. . . . If we keep our sight corrected by self-sacrificin' art, we attain that calmer vision, which endows a nobler heart.

Beneath It all

A boy stood by the roadside near an overturned load of hay. A neighboring farmer, noticed his predicament, and as it was dinner time, invited him to eat, explaining that they would take care of the hay afterwards.

The boy hesitated, but finally accepted.

During the meal the boy was very nervous and several times said that his father wouldn't like it. On being urged to give the reason for his father's objection, he said:

"Well, you see, dad is under the load of hay."

Attention All Washington Irving Lovers.

The local High School has leased the Palm Theater for December 14, and will give the public an opportunity to see Will Rogers in "The Headless Horseman".

"The Headless Horseman" is an adaptation of the American Classic, "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow" by Washington Irving, featuring the inimitable Will Rogers in the role of Ichabod Crane and is considered by the critics as one of the best educational pictures out.

The school children will be admitted in the afternoon and night show. There will be a comedy reel and special music will be furnished for both shows. The school will be let out early so those who care to attend the afternoon show may do so. It is desired that all the school children attend the matinee and for that reason those in charge of the picture have agreed to admit all grammar school children for ten cents. All other tickets will be twenty five for the matinee and all tickets for the night show will be thirty-five cents.

This is considered one of the best pictures out and it is hoped the school will be favored with a full house both afternoon and night. They are going to an expense in getting this picture and is successful will give others of like nature each month. The funds received from the shows will be used to take care of expenses the school has incurred such as music for its orchestra, glee club, library and athletics.

WHAT PRODUCES DEATH?

By J. P. [illegible]

You may class with [illegible]; but I shall make the statement just the same, that seventy-five percent of the people of adult age that die commit suicide by overeating, eating improper food, drinking improper fluid and avoidable exposure.

Our lives are regulated by our own volition, and not by any special act of a higher power.

The instinct of vegetation takes to itself such elements as are required in its formation and development. And therefore it thrives just as long as it is supplied with the necessary elements; and it [illegible] as to the kind and quantity [illegible] with him.

His propensity is to override each of nature's laws as soon as he learns his general nature regardless of the deleterious effects upon his system; thereby inflicting upon himself conditions paralyzing nature's forces, and hurling him to an untimely end.

Is there more pleasure derived in gratifying the appetite for about one sixteenth part of his wakeful hours, and suffering unexpressed misery the other fifteenth sixteenth, and thereby curtail his life by many years, than to respect nature's required conditions in regard to supplying her with the essential elements of food, and retain health and prolong life? It seems so for such is the case.

Dr. Wiley, Ex-chief of our Federal Bureau of Chemistry, when asked as to the effect of food in producing disease said, "I have made no effort to determine the number of diseases which are dependent upon diet, but I believe that I would not be far out of the way, if I should say all of the diseases to which man is heir.

Other food chemists that have given the matter much study, assert that ninety per cent of the diseases result from improper food and the manner of eating and drinking.

In order to be able to counteract those diseases, it is essential to become familiar with Physiological Chemistry and the chemistry of food.

[illegible] and milk combined, contain all of the required elements, more in some than in others, but can be so selected as to supply the system with a perfect diet.

To simplify the method of selecting the proper food elements, foods have been divided into four classes, and denoted as proteids, fats carbohydrates and minerals.

In selecting these foods care should be taken to combine such as contain the required amount of each.

To combine a proper diet, it would be safe in arranging to make it at least one half from fruit and vegetables, choosing different varieties at different meals. The fruit and vegetables with the bran from the wheat will supply the minerals that must be secured for the bones, and the formation of the digestive juices which are chiefly composed of mineral matter, and without those fluids no digestion will prevail.

And care should also be taken not to include too much meat, as about one half of the proteids required for the system are obtained from the other foods, and meat in excess is poisonous to the system beyond other foods as it decays and forms uric acid and other destructive elements in the system.

The proteids form the muscles and tissues and should comprise about 10% of the food consumed; the fats 5% are principally fuel; the carbohydrates mostly as fuel, but add much to the general reconstruction of the system and comprise about 65% while the minerals form the bones and also the digestive juices, which are largely composed of alkalies and acids and should comprise about 20%.

There are five digestive juices that act upon the foods to prepare them for assimilation; namely, Saliva of the mouth, Gastric juice of the stomach, Pancreatic, Bile and that derived from the intestines.

The office of the saliva is to convert the foods into glucose, or sugar to prepare them conditionable to be acted upon by the gastric juice, which should reduce the food to a soft pulp before it leaves the stomach, after which it receives the pancreatic juice and the bile, and the juice from the intestines as it passes thru the alimentary canal where the assimilation takes place. Which is the passing of the chemical food elements thru the walls of the intestines into the blood and carried thru the system to all the organs, rebuilding the disintegraded cells of the tissues.

The blood takes up all the chemical elements that are held in the solution, whether they are adapted to the needs of the different organs. And if not adapted, and then, required, they act as posion the same as strychnine only in a milder degree, and the direct effect is to debilitate the system so that it is susceptible to the different diseases that effect it.

And if the foods do not contain all the required elements, and in sufficient quantities, then some of the organs of the system waste away. For instance, if food is wanting in mineral matter, the bones become brittle and decay, the same as any of the other organs, and especially the digestive organs when deprived of the proper [illegible] results in indigestion, biliousness and other sympathetic ailments.

The principal proteids are, lean meat, fish, fowl, white of eggs, dried beans, peas and nuts.

The principal fats are butter, cheese, lard, oils, cream, nuts and chocklets.

The principal carbohydrates are sugar of all kinds, syrup, starch, cereals, vegetables and fruits.

The principal minerals are contained in the hull of all grains, and the peal of all fruits, vegetable tops and other greens.

The stomach is the mixing bowl, and not the digestive container as many conjecture. And when that is filled, whether wholly of proper or improper foods beyond the capacity of the efficiency of the gastric juice to neutralize, then a portion of that food if not nearly all of it, is conditioned to decay and thereby create gas, which may effect the whole content of the stomach, and in that condition passes into the intestines, and the sour fluid mixed with the food elements passes into the blood to irritate all the organs of the system, and more particularly the kidneys and liver.

And if continued long enough the vitality of the blood will be destroyed, and the system succumbs thru some one of the specific diseases; which conditions are directly produced by overeating.

Microbes thrive in such decayed foods.

The continual gaseous formation in the stomach eventually expands the stomach so that it occupies a portion of the space designed for and required by the heart to act, which results in the stoppage of its action. And the party is reported as having died from heart failure, (the left end of the stomach lies directly under the heart).

From observation I have concluded that 75% of the so called heart failure is the result of such gaseous formations, while the heart is in a healthy condition. Visiting a friend an eminent physician by reputation, I observed that after he had eaten a very hearty meal that he took a white pellet as a relish. When I had an opportunity I asked his daughter what ailed her father and she said heart trouble; and I said, taking strychnine and she said yes. Some time after that while there he had an ordinary box of pills from which he selected a pill to counteract the deleterious effect of the destructive dinner that he had just eaten. I asked his daughter how her father's heart trouble was, and she said that it was not his heart; it was his stomach".

Another instance: a man said that a few years before he had what the doctors said was heart trouble for which they treated him; and that he used up a small fortune feeing them, until he by chance applied to a doctor who informed him that it was not his heart, but it was his stomach, and prescribed for that defect and had since been well.

The same is true as to acute indigestion; the bloated condition of the stomach and the upper intestines cause the pain and obstruct the action of the heart.

I have taken the trouble to obtain the facts in very many cases where people have been reported to have died in a similar manner, and as yet have not found a case but that the facts were that the parties had been long sufferers of stomach trouble instead of acutal disease of the heart, and their death invariably followed an intemperate meal, or undue exercise immediately following a heavy meal.

Physicians tell us that constipation is the cause of most of the diseases.

From what I have learned from others, and experimentalizing on myself, I have arrived at the conclusion that the digestive organs are reactionary with the intestines and may be classed as acting upon, and effecting each other.

With good digestion and proper food no constipation exists. Good digestion and improper food there may be constipation; and with poor digestion and improper food, constipation is sure to exist.

And the usual remedy for that is physic, which partakes of the nature of poison, if not the intestines would not combine to expel it from the system, but rather use it as food, and in doing that, all the food properties in conjunction with the waste are expelled and therefore reprives the system of so much food, and if continuous, but little of the food eaten remains in the system for replenishment.

And in time the membrane of the intestine is destroyed, and its vitality destroyed; so that everything eaten has to be forced in like manner without imparting vitality to the system.

Constipation should be considered as the cause of appendicitis. It is claimed that foreign substances enter into the appendix; but casual information derived from physicians, and personal facts, I affirm that it may be considered as wholly due to constipation.

The caecum, the lower bowel, to which the appendix is attached, becomes so packed that the fluid secretion of the appendix can not pass out. It therefore becomes inflamed, and unless relieved soon effects the other organs.

I have been informed by reliable authority that a specialist in such cases remarked during autopsy, when there was found the existence of a foreign substance in the appendix, that he had operated upon hundreds of patients, and that that case was the first one in which he had found any foreign substance in the appendix.

A noted physician tells this on himself. That he had two patients suffering from appendicitis, and had arranged to operate upon them at a certain time, but circumstances prevented, and when he could attend to them, he notified them to come to the office for operation and that when they did appear they said that they did not need any operation, as they had consulted a young physician and he had prescribed salts and that they were all right. This physician was not up to the wiles of the profession.

A friend of mine said that his son some 16 years old had appendicitis, and the doctor said that he must be operated upon at once or pass out.

I asked him in regard to the kind of diet that he was subsisting upon, and being informed, suggested that he change to a coarser and more wholesome diet. Some six months after that the parent informed me that they had adopted the diet that I suggested and that the appendix had not growled any more, and that the son's health had never been as good as it had been during the past season.

An experimenter informed me that to test the efficiency of the difference between white and graham bread; he decided to live on each separately of five days, taking with each nothing but water. And to test his strength during the time resorted to the bicycle, and that while living on the white bread, before the end of the five days he became so weak that he could not mount the wheel.

After recuperating he tried the graham bread, and up to the end of the time he retained nearly his full strength.

Physiological chemists inform us that an out-door laboring man requires about 3000 calories of food per day (a calory being the lowest element of food, or chemical element); but in that there is much that cannot be assimilated, and passes off as waste. If all foods could be chemically adjusted, it would require much less food to sustain life. Personally I select as best that I can guess such varieties and quantities as are required; and by so doing, do not consume more than 1200 to 1500 calories per day. And on that I am able to perform six full days' work per week, mental or physical whenever I so choose. Perhaps there is nothing surprising about that as I am only somewhat four-score years young.

I have presented the foregoing as what appear to me to be facts and not theories, to be considered for what they are worth.

Galley THREE—Tribune.

And I believe that all those who will candidly consider how they, and those whose habits they know, have disregarded the laws of the human system as to diet and care, will agree with me that such acts are suicidal acts, and that had those who have passed beyond, shortened their lives by such acts many years.

Which as a result was suicidal.

Sounded Reasonable

The teacher asked the class in natural history—"Where is the home of the swallow?"

A long silence, then a hand moved. "All right, you may answer, Robert," smiled the teacher.

The True History of Father John's Medicine

One of the interesting places in Lowell, Mass., is the old apothecary shop on Merrimack Street, established in 1827. This location is still a drug store, although of course modernized in many departments. The old prescription books, however, have been preserved and form an interesting record covering nearly a century.

The Old Drug Store

Perhaps one of the most interesting books is that of the year 1855. On one of the pages of this book, that dated June 9th, 1855, is written the original prescription for Father John's Medicine. This prescription was compounded for the Reverend Father John O'Brien at the old drug store on that date, and was so successful in treating Father John's ailment, which was a severe cold and throat trouble, that he recommended the medicine to his friends and parishioners. In going to the drug store and calling for the medicine, they always asked for Father John's Medicine, and in this way the medicine got its name and was advertised.

The Old Prescription Book

Father John's Medicine is a safe family medicine for colds, coughs, throat troubles, and as a tonic and body builder, because it does not contain opium, morphine, chloroform, or any other poisonous drugs, or alcohol, but is all pure, wholesome nourishment.

Ice Cards

All ice customers should use an ice card placed in some place easily seen by delivery men when ice is wanted. There are several reasons for this, especially at this time of year when many of our customers who have been taking ice every day find that they do not need it every day where the weather is cooler. There are also many new people moving in, and it is almost impossible for delivery men to remember every one every time. There are some who object to having ice men making distrubance about the neighborhood by hollering ice every time he comes by, so if you want ice play safe and use your ice card.

We will be very grateful to all customers who will co-operate with us this much.

INTEGRITY — SERVICE

STUDEBAKER

EVERYONE who drives a Studebaker Special-Six marvels at the ease with which it steers.

This is due to three things: The use of Timken tapered roller bearings on the steering pivots; the easy-operating, exclusive Studebaker steering gear and a minimum of unsprung weight on the front axle.

The Studebaker Special-Six transmission, differential, rear axle, and all four wheels are also completely equipped with Timken bearings.

No other touring car priced under $5600 uses as complete installation of Timken bearings as the Special-Six.

This is an example of the quality that is built into every detail of the Special-Six. Studebaker spares no expense to make it the market's outstanding value in a five-passenger car.

Get behind the wheel of any car you plan to consider. Then compare its steering and riding qualities with the Studebaker Special-Six. Call—or phone—and we'll bring a car to your door so you can make this test yourself.

RESOLUTION

Be it resolved by Welch Post Number 422 Grand Army of the Republic of Whitehaville, Ohio, 60 members in regular meeting this the 24th day of November, 1923:

And whereas our Comrades who defended the flag in the Civil War are becoming few in numbers and weakened by age, and are now but a remnant that in the course of nature must soon have passed on, now, therefore,

Be it resolved that we urgently request the members of the Congress of The United States to once more recognize the old soldiers of the country by re-enacting speedily the Bursum Bill, or by enacting a similar measure providing for the comforts of life in their declining years to the blue clad men of '61-'65 and the widows of those deceased to the end that this a national debt of gratitude may be recognized and paid, and that the rising generation may be advised anew that republics are not ungrateful.

Be it resolved that copies of this resolution be sent to members of Congress and be furnished the press for publication.

J. K. P. FERRELL,
J. M. ANDERSON,
Committee.

THE HARDING MEMORIAL.

It is proposed, as a fitting memorial to the late President Warren G. Harding, to erect in Marion, Ohio, a grand mausoleum that shall contain the remains of the late president, and to purchase the home, that has already become an object of historic interest to many visitors so that the personal effects, books, speeches and mementos of the late president might be preserved in affectionate memory.

It is hoped that the friends and admirers of the late President Warren G. Harding, through their contributions will make this memorial to one of our best loved presidents possible.

We, the undersigned, have been requested by headquarters to serve as the committee for St. Cloud, and we cheerfully undertake the task, for it is a worthy object, and we solicit your help.

Beginning with Monday, December 9 we will be at the Chamber of Commerce to receive your contributions. Whatever you have to give will be gladly received. The late President Warren G. Harding had many friends and admirers in St. Cloud. Let us show our appreciation by our gifts.

ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING WEDNESDAY OF ST. CLOUD CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The regular weekly meeting of the St. Cloud Chamber of Commerce was held in the Chamber of Commerce room on New York avenue at noon [illegible] of members and guests and many matters for the good and welfare of the city were discussed.

After the luncheon the business session was held with President L. M. Parker presiding. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. No reports were had from the membership and advertising committees.

The report of the Park Committee was made by Chairman S. W. Porter who stated that the work was continuing rapidly. The roof has been completed and the floor laid. Work on the stage and partitions is now going forward as well as the siding for the outside walls. Mr. Porter stated that they would be ready for painters soon and urged those who can help with this work to report to him as soon as possible. A Mr. Smith has offered to work on the grounds provided proper tools were provided. Mr. Porter stated that there is plenty of work to be done yet and urged all who could help in any way to report and something would be provided for them to do. The opening of the club house last Monday was a splendid success in every way, and Mr. Porter [illegible] that he thanked the band for their part in making it a success.

Mr. Porter also reported for the band committee stating that the concert held last Sunday was the best one given yet, and that the band seemed to be getting better every week. Collections for the band were as follows: P. A. Armour, $5.00; Mrs. Fred Reinhart, $5.00. Bill amounting to $150.00 expenses of the director and members for the month of November was ordered paid. Mr. Porter announced a concert for Sunday afternoon, to be held at 3:45 p. m.

The report of Park Finance Committee was made by Mrs. M. P. Foster, who reported collections as follows: Mr. Robbins, $5.00; Gentleman, $1.00; Gentleman, $1.00; J. L. Overstreet, $10.00; James Goff, $25.00; County Commissioners on pledge, $100.00. Mr. J. A. McCarthy, treasurer of park fund, supplemented this report with the following collections: From L. M. Parker, pledges collected $16.00; Wm. Landiss, from pledges collected $217.00; Mrs. Anna Peterson, $25.00; Mrs. Johns, $5.00; Mrs. Hutcher, $5.00; Mrs. Chas. Barth, $10.00; Hatton Tilus, $1.00.

Mr. Wm. Landiss reported for the committee appointed last meeting to appear before the county commissioners relative to the holding of the county exhibit in St. Cloud this year, and stated that the committee brought the matter before the commissioners and that it had been reported that they had accepted the invitation of the Chamber of Commerce to hold the exhibit in the new tourist club house.

A bill of $10.00 for milk to the school lunch room was presented and ordered paid. It was moved and carried that all surplus food left from the chamber of commerce dinners be donated to the school lunch room.

Mr. U. J. Burrows, secretary of the Kissimmee Chamber of Commerce, was present and was introduced by President Parker. He praised the chamber of commerce for their activity in erecting a tourist club house. He also brought up the matter of unsightly signs along the highways, stating that following out plans of other counties the county commissioners had passed resolutions at their last meeting condemning such signs and that he had been busy since that time removing same. He asked the cooperation of the St. Cloud body in carrying out this program.

He also spoke regarding the Melbourne road stating that a committee from Kissimmee had recently made a trip over the road in order to see just [illegible] that from present appearances the road would not be completed for a long time but that the committee had succeeded in getting a promise to open a stretch of the paving that has been completed for some time. The matter was discussed at length by several members and co-operation between Kissimmee, St. Cloud and Melbourne was urged in keeping behind the movement in order that all progress possible should be made.

Mr. Landiss called attention that next week has been set aside as Harding Memorial Week and stated that someone would be on hand at the Chamber of Commerce room each day to receive donations for the erection of a suitable monument to our late President Harding. No solicitations will be made, but all who wish to contribute to this worthy cause can do so.

Mrs. M. V. Boyer, of Kissimmee, district president of the W. C. T. U., introduced Mrs. Lora S. LaMance, of Lake Wales, lecturer, traveler and author, who represents the W. C. T. U. and will speak in St. Cloud on Sunday afternoon. Mrs. LaManse praised the community spirit which exists in St. Cloud. She urged the removing of unsightly signs along the highways and the planting of tropical shrubbery along the roads. In her closing remarks Mrs. LaManse urged good schools for both white and colored, and above all, law enforcement. Her remarks were received with applause and much appreciated.

The entertainment committee for next week is Mrs. Dr. Cushman-Griswold, Messrs. Armstrong and Brammar.

Work donated on club building since last report:

Wednesday, Nov. 28—J. H. Collins, 1 day; H. P. Goodman, ½ day; Wm. DeNoyer, 1 day; J. P. Blood, 1 day; Wm. Landiss, 1 day; A. Larkins, ½ day.

SYNOPSIS

Ichabod Crane, Yankee school teacher from Connecticut, goes to Sleepy Hollow, New York, to take charge of the little school house in that community. Upon his arrival he meets the coquettish Katrina Van Tassel, the Belle of Sleepy Hollow and the daughter of a wealthy family, and becomes infatuated with her.

His courtship was very persistent, much to the dissatisfaction of the athletic "Brom Bones, who is in love with Katrina and secretly loved by her.

Ichabod stirs the ire of the local innkeeper by using the whip on the latter's wayward son. The innkeeper causes a certain element of the community to believe that Ichabod is a witch. "Brom" Bones aids the innkeeper by giving one of the boys strong drink and blaming it on Ichabod. The mob plans to tar and feather Ichabod and he is rescued in time by Katrina and her father. A few nights later the Headless Horseman made his appearance in the town. At a party given by the Van Tassel's sometime later the story of the Headless Horseman was told. That night as Ichabod was returning home he was approached by the Headless Horseman. Ichabod fled for his life, and was never seen again in Sleepy Hollow.

FISHERS' LUCK.

About a year ago Mr. and Mrs. Myser came from Michigan to St. Cloud and secured a winter home here. Soon after they were joined by a congenial friend who beside being an M. D. was (like Myser) a scientific fisherman. Together these gentlemen planned to do some big stunts in fishing, and after a week of preparation they began the fun.

Day after day they went out while Mrs. Myser [illegible] and had meals ready and smoking hot when the weary men returned, for they were weary but not lucky—very few fish came their way. They visited all the lakes near and took trips out a long way from the city. Tried all kinds of devices known to scientific fishermen with no avail. It seemed they could not get fish enough to brag about.

The fall and winter slipped by with no big haul coming their way and they lost faith in there being many fish near St. Cloud.

This year Mrs. and Mr. Myser returned early to the Wonder City, (the Dr. has not yet appeared) but as soon as they were nicely settled in their southern home Mr. Myser began to long for the beloved sport of fishin. As he is too congenial to enjoy fishing alone.

Mrs. Myser understanding the situation offered to go with her husband and he reluctantly consented still wondering if she would be able to keep still while he fished so as to not to frighten the fish away.

The place they selected was about twenty miles out and they began throwing out the line as soon as they arrived for Mrs. Myser had decided to try her hand, and the fish just seemed crazy to be caught. What surprised Mr. Myser was the fact that his wife was fully his equal in the game. It surely must be luck for she practically knew nothing about scientific fishing. At noon they ate a hasty lunch and returned to the work which was simply play for the fish came faster as the hours slipped by. When the sun in the west began to throw crimson banners across the lake they gathered up the spoils, over one hundred and forty fish ranging in weight from one half to three pounds and the whole catch weighing considerably over one hundred pounds of nice clean fish. They may have been a little tired when they arrived home with their wonderful catch but they did not appear that way, for Mr. Myser was soon distributing fish among his friends and neighbors who know the Myzers are not miserly.

Now Mr. Myser is planning to go out to some of the big lakes and is just as eager to have his wife accompany him as she is to go for he is not sure but it was woman's luck that helped in that big haul of fish, since it was not practical knowledge.

MASONS ELECT OFFICERS ON DECEMBER FOURTEEN

The Worshipful Master of St. Cloud Lodge No. 221, F. & A. M. has announced that the annual election of officers will take place at the next regular meeting of the lodge on December 14th, and urges all members to be present and participate in this event.

At the same meeting a special committee will present plans for the annual celebration of St. John's Day, December 27th, as has been the custom for the past few years in the St. Cloud lodge. This event has proven to be one of the most important of the whole year in the past, and no doubt plans for this year's celebration will no doubt be in keeping with others. An excellent speaker has been secured and the program will be one that will long be remembered. The installation of officers will also take place on St. John's Day.

All members of St. Cloud Lodge are urged to be present at the next meeting, and all visiting members of the fraternity are extended a cordial welcome to all the meetings.

BEAN, RETURNING TO CAPITAL, PREDICTS THE NOMINATION OF COOLIDGE AND JONES AS JUDGE

(Tampa Tribune, Dec. 1.)

Hon. George W. Bean, Republican National Committeeman for Florida, and Mrs. Bean, who have been spending a month in Tampa and Cuba, left [illegible] Washington where Mr. Bean has many important matters, business and political awaiting his attention.

Mr. and Mrs. Bean spent a portion of their time in Cuba. It was Mrs. Bean's first visit to Florida and Cuba and she enjoyed the experience. One of the most enjoyable of these was a fishing expedition to Anna Maria Key, where they had great luck.

Mr. Bean says he has no apprehensions regarding the presidential aspirations of Senator Hiram Johnson, of California. He believes that President Coolidge will be renominated with very little formidable opposition. While in Florida, Mr. Bean took occasion to strengthen the administration lines and he does not give serious consideration to the threat of the "lily white" or "progressive" elements in the party in this state to take over the party organization. Mr. Bean expects the appointment of the new Federal judge for Florida immediately after Congress convenes and is certain that it will be Lake Jones, of Jacksonville.

Mr. and Mrs. Bean and Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Lambright were guests of Postmaster Elizabeth Barnard and her mother, Mrs. Donaldson, at breakfast Friday morning at Mrs. Barnard's home.

CORAL GABLES, BIG MIAMI DEVELOPMENT OFFERS FREE AUTO TRIPS

Announcement of free automobile trips down the East Coast to Coral Gables, Miami's newest and probably greatest development project is being made in all the papers in this part of the state this week.

Miami, long ago known for doing big things and rapid growth, is now the scene of development of surrounding territory to an even greater extent. And persons who have visited Coral Gables recently report that work already done is beyond even the expectations of visitors.

The announcement [illegible] proposition is in this issue of the Tribune and persons interested in visiting the East Coast and a high class real estate proposition can read with interest their statements.

One winter visitor who is in St. Cloud told the Tribune this week that he and his wife made the trip, enjoyed the entire journey and was pleased with the development, so much so, that while he has good property here, invested in land at Coral Gables to await the future rapid growth and increase in value. The prices are in keeping with first class development projects that have been successful in the Miami section for the past few years, and wonderful work has already been done there.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Buttery Entertain their Connecticut Friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Buttery of St. Cloud entertained a number of their Norwalk, Conn. friends on Thanksgiving day at their residence corner of 6th St. and Alabama Ave. After a bountiful Thanksgiving dinner which was served on the open porch, the guests enjoyed an auto ride, returning in time for supper, after which the evening was spent in singing old time melodies and dancing old time dances. Mr. Ben Allen playing the banjo. Mr. Fred Tyrrell brought his snow shovel, but having no use for it, as it was a perfect summer day, left it with Mr. Buttery for a souvenir. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Buttery, Mr. and Mrs. John Guthrie, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tyrrell, Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Bates and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Allen.

ACCIDENT NOT SERIOUS.

What might have been a serious accident last Thursday resulted in only slight damage to a car and painful but not serious bruises to one of the occupants of a car which tried to cross the A. C. L. railroad tracks just east of the city when a train was approaching. The car was driven by Mr. Reed, who had as his guests Mr. Barrell and Mr. Russo, of Dundee, N. Y., who had been out in that section to visit an old friend, Dr. Hawley. While the damage to the car was slight and the injuries to one of its passengers slight the two gentlemen from Dundee, N. Y., got home sick and started back to New York in the automobile Tuesday. Agent Diefendorf for the A. C. L. made an investigation of the accident for the railroad and has all the facts that could be obtained.

COMMITTEE MEETING ON SOLDIERS HOME MONDAY

It so happened that the local chapter of the Red Cross was called to meet at the same time as the joint committee appointed by the G. A. R., Spanish War Veterans, American Legion and Chamber of Commerce last Monday night, so the meeting of the joint committee was postponed until next Monday at 7:00 p. m. at the Chamber of Commerce building when plans are to be devised for the securing of a soldiers' home to be located in the state of Florida.

ST. CLOUD RED CROSS NURSE AT CONFERENCE

Miss Aurelia Likes, local Red Cross nurse, was in attendance on the conference of nurses held at Jacksonville last week and returned home with good reports of the interesting program enjoyed by the large gathering. The conference was held to get all organizations for public welfare working in harmony in the state, and ideas of problems handled were exchanged by those in attendance, thus giving all the workers the benefit of the experiences of the whole division.

MRS. MARY C. BROWN, Asst. Secy.

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 5.—By next spring the Ford Motor Company will have completed an immense new factory at Copenhagen, Denmark, which will be one of the finest in Europe, introducing in that part of the world new standards in design and operation.

The growth of the Copenhagen assembly plant since its opening in June 1919, has been remarkable and it is now the second largest foreign among the foreign companies, first place being held by the plant at Manchester, England.

A total of thirteen countries are served by Copenhagen. These include Denmark, Iceland, Faroe Islands, Norway, Finland, Free State of Danzig, Esthonia, Latvia, Lithuania, Poland, Ukraine and Germany.

The demand for Ford cars during the present year has been particularly good in the three Scandanavian countries, Denmark, Norway and Sweden and the Fordson Tractor has come into extensive agricultural use.

Construction work on the new plant at Copenhagen is well underway. The site, covering four and a half acres, is admirably situated on the south harbor of Copenhagen. The building is being erected so that ocean freighters coming up the North Sea can dock on two sides of it, permitting direct delivery of assembly of material from the Manchester plant and from Detroit, via New York. Railroad service will also be direct to the property.

The new building is 400 feet long by 300 feet wide. The [illegible] section is two stories high with an inner court of one story with daylight roof. All stock will be moved by conveyors. The second floor will be devoted to an exclusive body making factory. The chassis assembly line, which will be on the same continuous production system as that employed in all American plants of the company, will be on the first floor.

A large power plant adjoins the main building. The new plant and property represents an investment of more than $650,000.00.

Over 652,000 acres of legumes were plowed under for green manure in 1922 by farmers following the advice of agricultural extension workers on methods of building up soil fertility, according to reports to the United States Department of Agriculture.

Now in Presidential Race

Senator Hiram Johnson of California (at left), in the field against President Coolidge for the 1924 Republican nomination, stopped off in Chicago on his way to Washington for a conference with Wm. Wrigley, chewing gum magnate. From their bearings it would seem all was going well.
